

INT 4.0 Mapping Guide

1. Which INT needs to be mapped?

The INT currently in circulation is divided into three categories:

Token issued based on the Ethereum network — E-INT (no mapping required)

Token issued based on Heco network — H-INT (no mapping required)

Token issued based on INT mainnet — INT (requires mapping)

Token map methods and time: (Exchanges and Mapping window)

The Token Swap will be implemented through the exchanges that we are listed on and our mapping window.

1. Mapping window to mapping token

Mapping window: <https://wallet.intchain.io/titansmapping.html?lan=en>

Opening time: Synchronously open the mapping on the same day of INT 4.0 mainnet launched

Duration: It is expected to last for one year

Copy the 3.0 wallet private key and open the mapping window link

The mapping was not completed within the specified deadline

INT is responsible for informing and guiding its users to map token repeatedly on all official channels and through various ways. Users should pay attention to your assets and complete the mapping within the time period, and should be responsible for any losses caused by not completing the mapping within the time period.
